Title: "The Smile of a Friend"

Author: Illaria Spirit Song

A song written and performed by the bardess Illaria, transcribed herein by a friend who held her dear.

"We travel the land and seek our fortunes, some through hard work, some through adventure, each of us in our own way. In this world of monsters and murderers, in this land of gold and gems, there is a treasure no chest can hold, in the smile of a friend."

"We mix our potions and cast our spells, we mark our runes and scribe our scrolls, but there is a power no mage has known, in the smile of a friend."

"In this world of
monsters and murderers, in this land of gold and gems, there is a treasure no chest can hold, in the

"And as I look at those around me, those who support me whatever the need, my heart starts to sing as I realize that I am lucky indeed."

"In this world of
smile of a friend. Yes I've found the treasure
smiles of my friends."

-Yours was a smile your friends will indeed treasure forever, Illaria.
I'll miss ye,
-Guv
